1. Bow and Arrow

CHAPTER 1: Bow and Arrow

"_You are the bows from which your children as living arrows are sent forth"_

_ ~Khalil Gibran_

Suddenly, a new voice jumped out from their 'temple' doorway as a small green girl wearing a helmet similar to an onigiri triangle walked out.

"I have never heard of this place called "Japan" but your hair appears to resemble what the steven calls 'a waffle" Are you sick?" Jotaro facepalms in the background as he just plugs his ears and prepares for the inevitable shitstorm..

"WHAT THE FUCK DID YOU JUST SAY ABOUT MY HAAAIIIIIRRRRRR?!"

Suddenly Peridot flew backwards and went right through the screen door, like she was thrown by an invisible force, but only Steven saw his stand. At this point though, he still had no idea what in the world was happening, but as he watched t unfold, he was suddenly filled with a rage and protectiveness he'd never felt before. As that anger started to peek, and he raised his fist like he was going to punch the air, a bright light flashed around him and everyone in the room was blinded..

When the light faded, everyone was dead quiet and frozen in place.

Peridot, because she was still dazed from being thrown across the room and then & Josuke, because they were both awestruck at the marvelous stand that appeared behind this small child, towering even over Jotaro by a few feet.

And all 3 of the Crystal Gems, because the figure engulfed in pink flames standing behind Steven, dressed in what appeared to be a sort of futuristic samurai helmet wasâ€¦.

"ROSE!"

Pearl flung herself forward with such might

EARLIER THAT DAY

"...and your father, Joseph, he passed through this town Beach City, on his way to Mexico way back when, to rescue Speedwagon. For some reason, I couldn't get much out of him before my phone reception cut out, but heard something about finding some pearls?"

"Pearlsâ€¦?" Josuke asked with an odd look on his face.

"Yes, I'm not quite sure either...never mind the pearls. We're here to track down the man with the bow. I discovered through the Speedwagon foundation that an archaeologist on the outskirts of beach city was supposedly hit by an arrow at his site, but the man fled before anyone could get a better look at him"

"..Did he survive..?"

Jotaro avoided the question and kept on walking. "We're almost to the train stop. Even on the train way there, I want you to stay alert. I've heard strange legends about this area in the past, and who knows what the hell we're going to have to deal with"

"But why would you want to take the train to the kindergarten when we can just warp there, i thought you were the warpmaster?" Pearl asked with a smirk on her face.

"I just like trains, please Pearl! We can meet you there!"

"Yeah P"

Pearl jumped straight in the air like a frog as Amethyst suddenly popped up behind her. "Humor him, for one he's saved us from an intergalactic space jail, plus I'll go with, no biggieâ€¦.the train has a free buffet!"

Pearl just rolled her eyes, but turned to Steven. Amethyst is right, i should be less overprotective but I just can't help it sometimesâ€¦ "Alright Steven go ahead, Garnet and I will meet you two there. Amethyst I want you to keep your guard up when you arrive, we don't even know who or what's causing these strange signals yet"

2. We meet at last

_"Do not be afraid; our fate cannot be taken from us; it is a gift."_

_ ~Dante Alighieri, Inferno (The Divine Comedy #1)_

When Amethyst and steven hopped off the train and started walking that half mile-stretch of desert to the kindergarten, the last thing they should've expected they'd find pearl having some kind of mental breakdown.

'Pearl makes a great leader sometimes, and damn sometimes it's like she knows everything but it's like I can't leave her alone for 5 minutes without her spazzing out again' Amethyst thought, rolling her eyes.

"Pearl, what's wrong?" Steven asked gently. He reached out to touch her shoulder but just as he almost did she spun around abruptly and they got a good look at her face.

She was white, whiter than usual, they thought, and she'd been...crying.

"Oh nothing, Steven, it's fine. Just my imagination, I thought I saw something." Pearl did her best to force a smile. She turned around to calm down and whispered to herself, "No...it couldn't have been him...it can't be..."

Meanwhile, at the other edge of the kindergarten, Josuke and Jotaro were baffled. They had chased the bow man to this small canyon a couple miles away from the border of Beach City, but then he just vanished.

"What the hell are these holes in the walls? They look like people..?"

Jotaro dismissed his observation "You're just being stupid, it's probably your imagination. They're just holes, who kno-

They both froze. Around the corner of the one rock wall they faced, they heard what sounded like a child's yelp and then two women screaming. They ran towards it.

As they rounded the corner they saw what had caused all the screaming and commotion. The bow man had snuck past them and struck a small child right in the chest, The two women beside him, one tall and lanky and the other short and for some reason purple, glanced at them but dismissed their presence because of the current threat. In a whirlwind of jerky and rushed leaps and twirling, the two women flung themselves at each other and Josuke and Jotaro were blinded for a second.

When the light gave way, it gave way to something that wasn't human. She (if it was a she) stood about 12 feet tall, and had two pairs of arms and a giant bow and arrow that rivaled the size of the bow man's body. All three of them, still as confused as ever, Josuke, Jotaro and this woman-thing, all gave a yell and charged at the bow man in anger...

To their surprise, they all ran straight into each other and fell unconscious, as if the bow man had simply...vanished into thin air.

Everything went black.

3. Quartz is Unbreakable

"_A lot of child soldiers lose their minds"_

_ ~Emmanuel Jal_

"Ugh...my head..." When Josuke came to, the first thing that flashed through his mind was that boy.

â€¦.We failed...if we had caught him earlier...we could've prevented this...agh!

He dropped to the floor and gripped his head as another splitting migraine hit him. That's when he realized the ground under him wasn't dirt...it was floor. A wooden floor.

"Where am I...Kujo...?!"

"Calm down you little shit don't make that headache worse. You got hit pretty hard." He looked up to see Jotaro bent over a couch across from him, along with those two women. They were bent over someone...a child...that boy! Josuke sprinted over but rushed and tripped, when he hit the floor he heard the boy moan.

"He's still alive..." Pearl gasped with tears in her eyes.

"Hey Pearl where do you want me to put this bow...?" Amethyst asked just twirling the bow and arrows around like batons.

"DON'T TOUCH THAT!" Josuke and Jotaro both screamed. "Ladyâ€¦.did you say...your name was Pearl?" Jotaro asked.

"Y-yes...why are you asking? And who exactly are youâ€¦?" she gulped and her eyes darted around nervously. Anywhere but his face, Pearl...just...don't...look... at his...face.

Josuke shoved himself between them "I don't know what the hell is happening here, or why you two are making goo-goo eyes at each other, but we don't have much time before I won't be able to fix him" he muttered in his thick Japanese accent.

The boy moaned again and both girls gasped. "Stevenâ€¦" they could barely choke out.

Now usually Pearl could hold herself together well. But this was Steven, her Steven, this was Rose, and sheâ€¦.he was hurt. All bets were off.

She suddenly grabbed Josuke's arm as tight as if she had eagles' claws. "Pleaseâ€¦,, if you can do something please help him...oh god my babyâ€¦"

All three of them gathered around and leaned in close as josuke placed his hands on Steven's forehead.

One.

Josuke placed his hands on Steven's chest and concentrated with all his might.

Two.

His splitting headache was growing worse with each passing millisecond, and he was starting to burn up, but he couldn't stop now. He has to try and save this boy.

Three.

A faint light began to glow around Steven; Amethyst could've sworn she saw some pink and white-clothed...thing...shimmering behind Josuke. Everyone around Steven could very clearly hear what had to be his broken ribs snapping back in to place, they were all too relieved to be creeped out by it. That is, everyone except Jotaro. He had a stony expression on his face like he had just tasted something very unpleasant.

"Well, now that the boy is alright, what did you say your name was, Pearl is it...? How much do you know about a man named Joseph Joestar...
